At the end of the day, the cows go back into the barn. The cows rest in the barn and chew the grass that they swallowed during the day.
There is a big barn on the farm. The barn is for the cows. They stay in the barn at night. During the day, the cows are in the field where they eat a lot of grass. They swallow the grass but do not chew it.