LEVEL C-7 At the Lake | Book 4

written by Elfrieda H. Hiebert & Wendy Svec

Flowers come in lots of colors like pink, red, and white.

The lake in spring is a good place to fly
a kite.

We hold a kite by its string.

A gust of wind blows it across the sky.

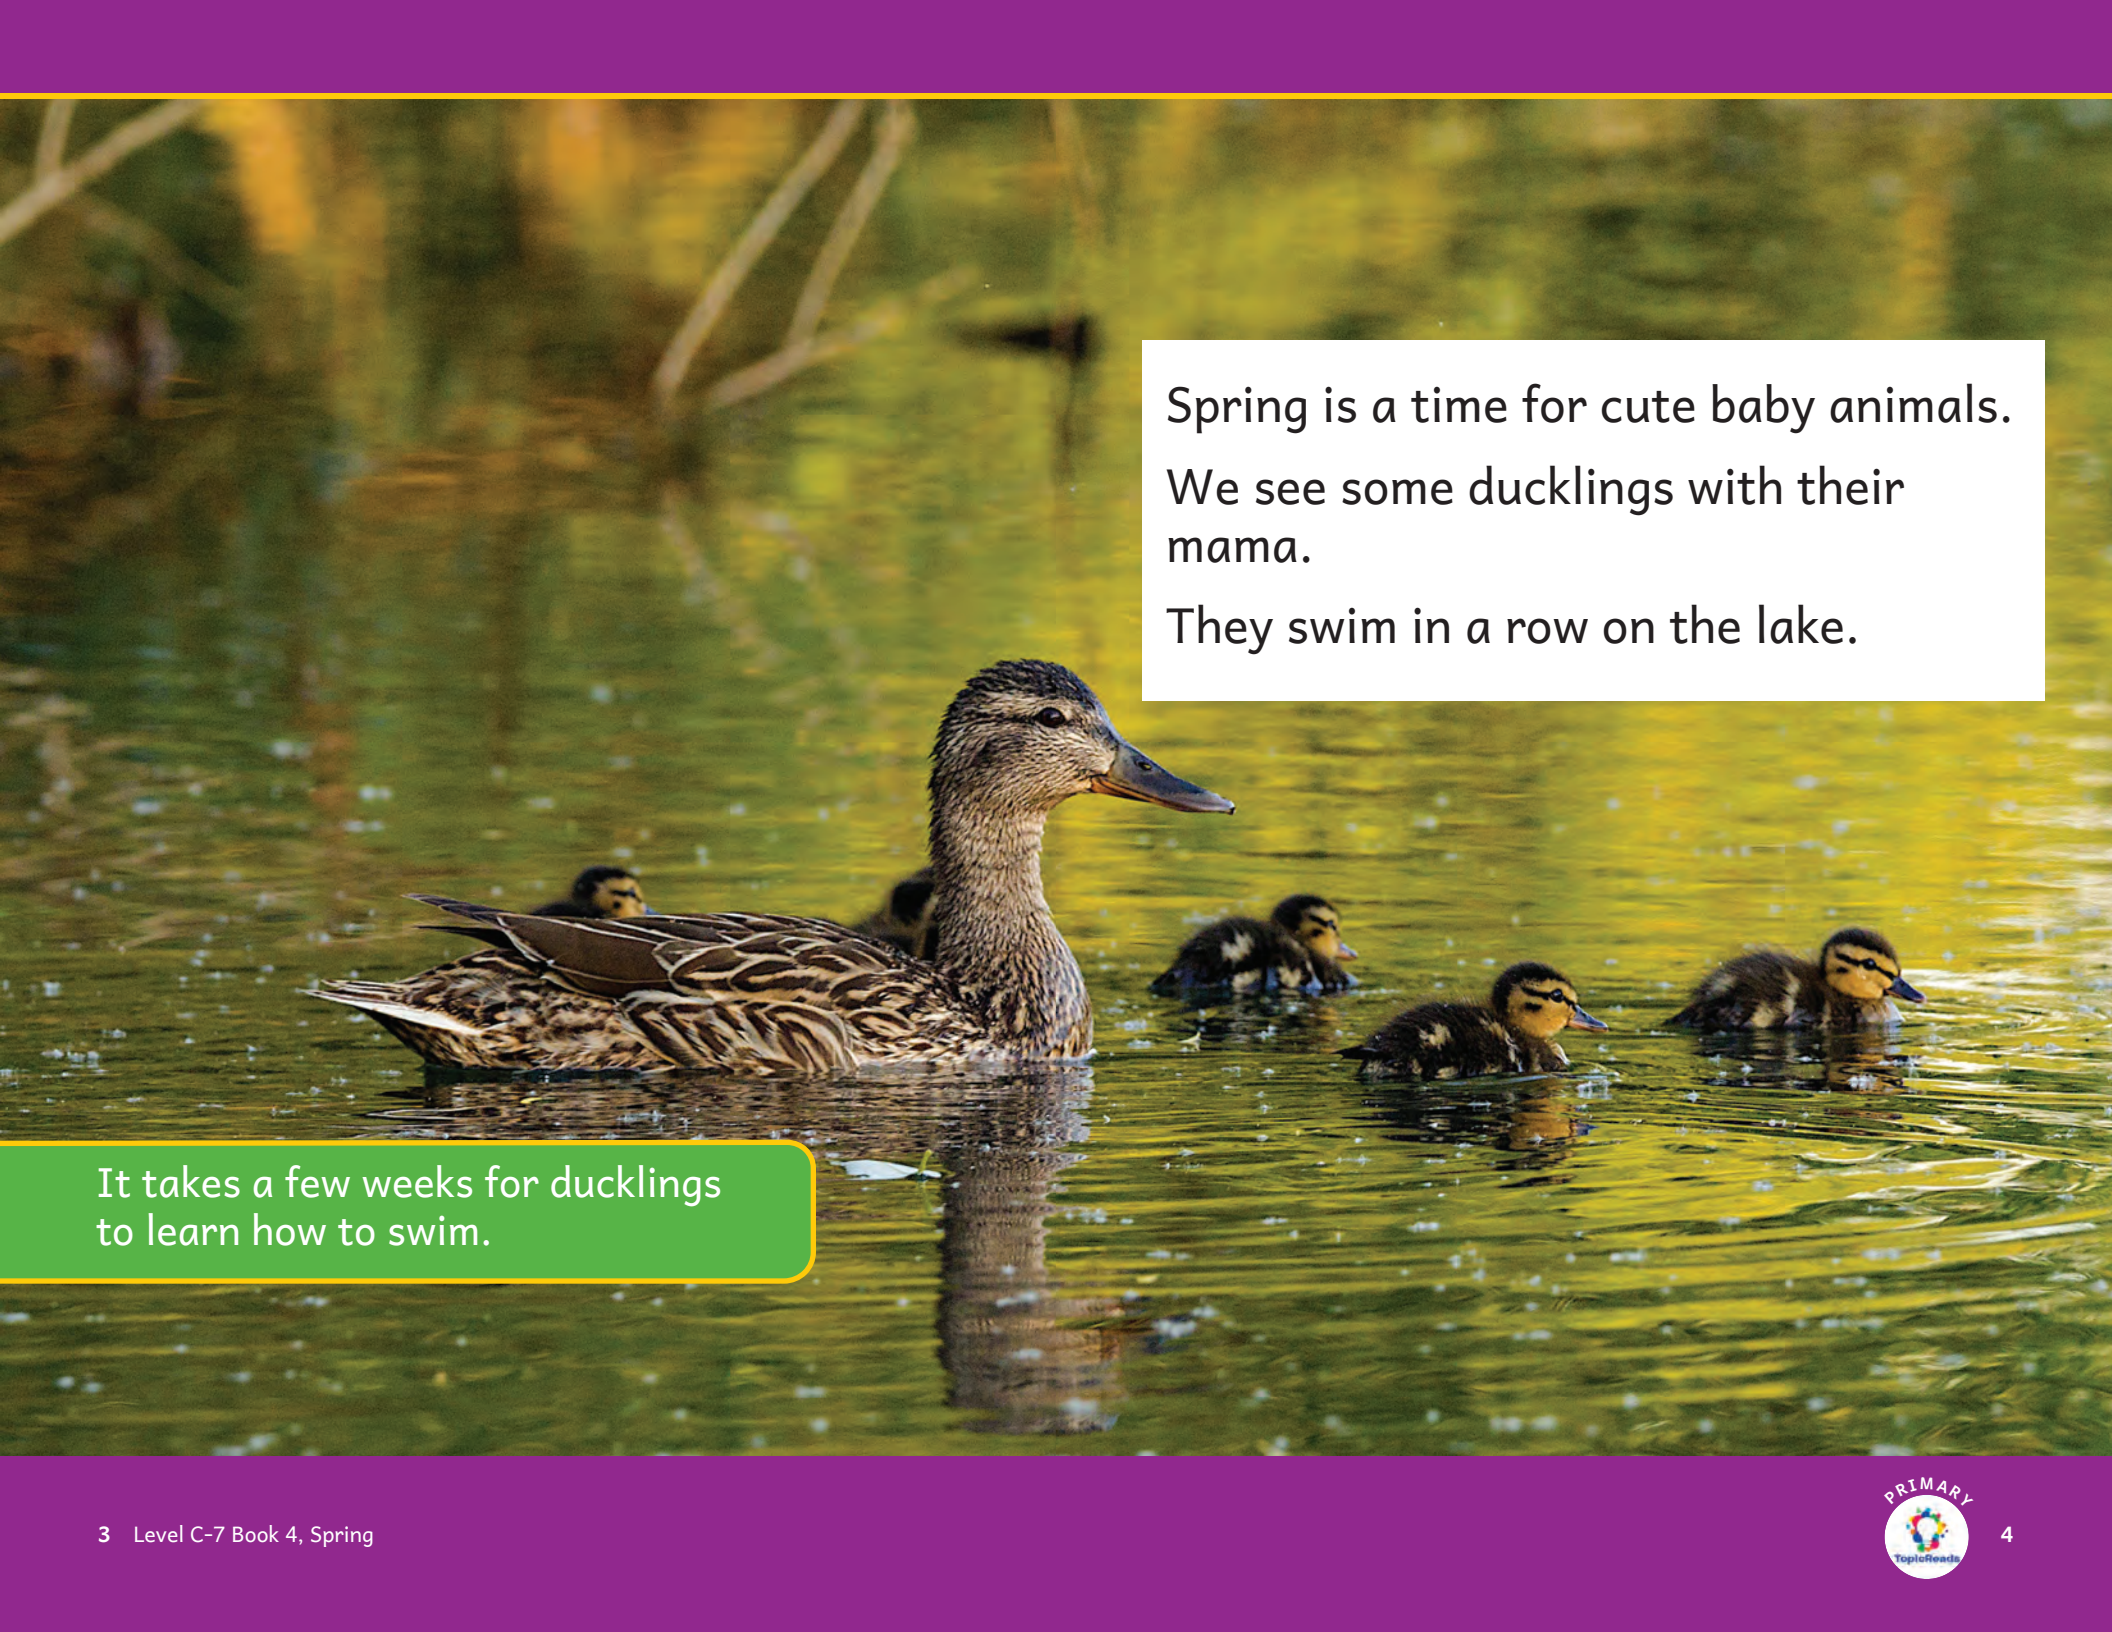

The shape of a kite can help it to fly.
What shape is the kite in the picture?

It's spring at the lake.
The trees have new leaves.
Birds and bees drink from spring flowers.

A photograph of a mother duck with brown and white mottled feathers swimming in a body of water. She is surrounded by several small ducklings that look like her but are smaller. The water is greenish-yellow, and the background is a soft-focus natural setting.

Spring is a time for cute baby animals.
We see some ducklings with their mama.

They swim in a row on the lake.

It takes a few weeks for ducklings to learn how to swim.
